

Patterson Creek Water Trail Map

Patterson Creek is nestled in the rural ridge and valleys of West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle. The 283 square mile creek meanders 37 miles from Lahmansville to the Potomac.

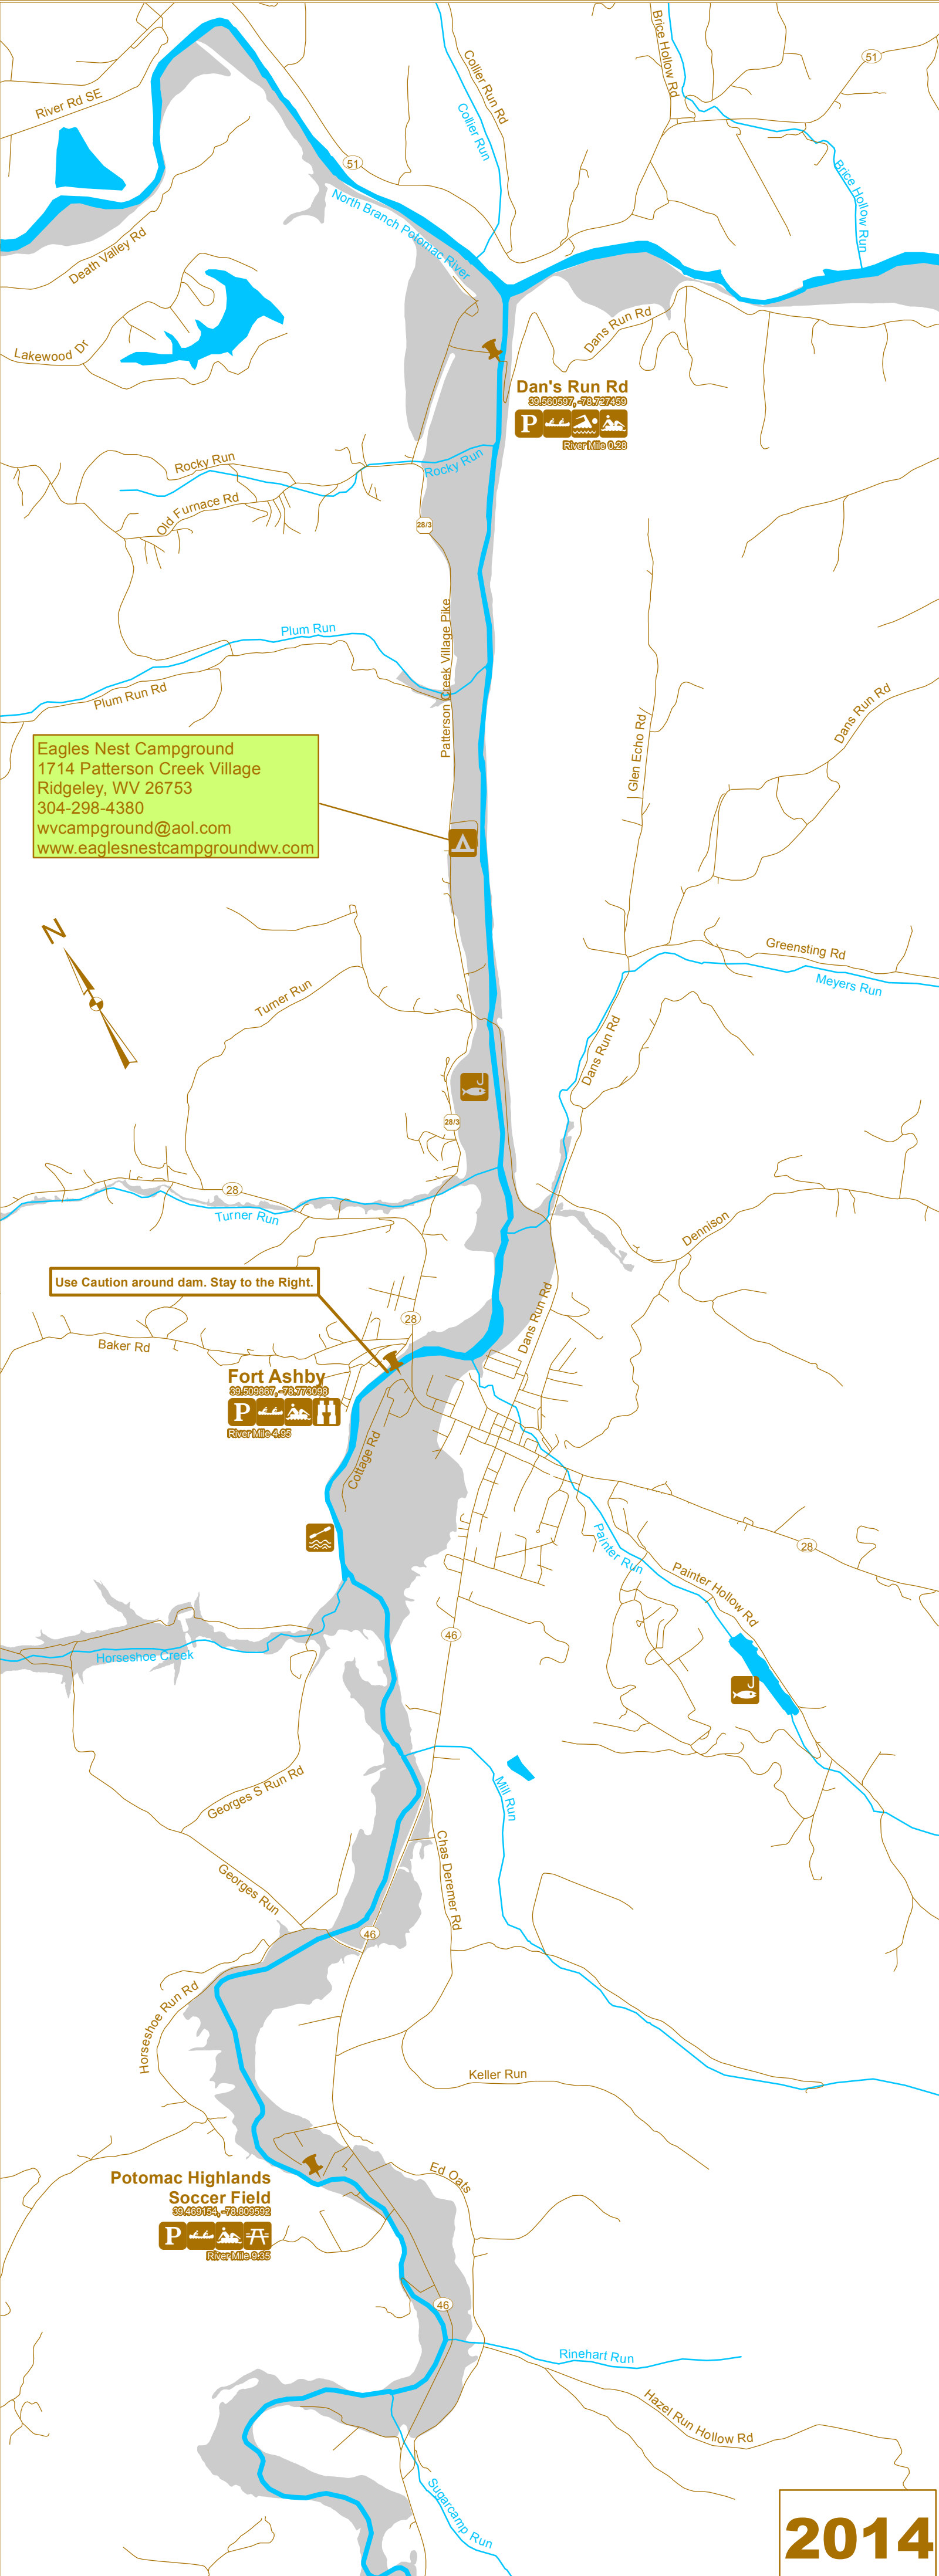

Numerous tributaries emanate from countless coves and hollows amongst the mountains that line the valley. Cascading down the hillsides, these streams provide many scenes of quiet charm and spiritual beauty.

Patterson Creek has many wonderful floats for the avid paddler to the splashing fun of a family tubing adventure. Cast a line, admire the scenery and enjoy the peace and quiet. Patterson Creek is a great get away.

Parking	Sight Seeing
Canoe Access	Picnicking
Tubing	Camping
Swimming	Fast Water
DNR Approved	Fishing
Access Sites	USGS Gage
Creeks	Boat Launch
Flood Plain	Emergency Exit

0.5 0.25 0 0.5 Miles

This water trail map was created by the Upper Potomac RIVERKEEPER from a grant through the Stream Partners Program offered through a cooperative effort of WV state agencies. Your efforts to protect the beauty and quality of Patterson Creek are greatly appreciated as you enjoy all that this peaceful creek has to offer.

2014